OUR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

THE ELECTION IS ALMOST HERE!

I am, of course, referring to Healdsburg AAUW's election of its officers and board of directors. We are following the British model which has a very short period of campaigning. The election will be held according to our by-laws at the annual May meeting prior to the Speakers Series on Tuesday, May 10th at 5:30 p.m. in the Healdsburg High School library.

I hope most of you will come out and exercise your vote. In the past the percentage of the AAUW electorate exercising its right to vote has been shockingly small given our educated and civic minded membership. The Board would really like to know that it has the members' support for our actions. Even if they are willy nilly, it is nice to be able to say that we had the overwhelming support of our members. Sorry, we don't have mail-in balloting yet. Voter fraud has been a big worry.

The nominations are:

President	Ronnie Devitt*
Past President	Sue Campbell*
Vice President	Nancy Haiston*
Secretary	Violet Nelson*
Treasurer	Winky Merrill*
Communications	Linda Clark*
Community Services	Judy Edmonds*
Fund Raising	Janet Hoehn*
Grants &amp; Scholarships	Andi Michelsen*
Membership	Deana Fusco*
National Issues &amp; Public Policy	Michele St. Clair*
Speakers Series	Sandy Beddow &amp; Violet Nelson
Social Activities	Barbara Reid

*Incumbent

The candidates have already filled most of their cabinet positions with a fantastic group of volunteers who will be named and thanked after the election.

So far the campaigning has been conducted in a fair and almost "ladylike" manner. Perhaps, it helps that all of the candidates are running unopposed and most for their second term in office. However, according to By-law, Article V, Sec. 1.d., nominations may be made from the floor with the consent of the nominee. This possibility may cause the campaign to become more raucous in the last month before the election.

See you on May 10th!

—Ronnie Devitt

The 2016 Homes Tour – A Unique Healdsburg Experience

This year’s tour features six fabulous homes that reflect the diversity of living in Healdsburg. For lovers of older homes, there are four renovated treasures. One is a Tudor Revival built in 1934 which received a Historic Preservation award by the Healdsburg Museum. Another home is probably Healdsburg’s first Queen Anne built in 1880. Just a block away is a fully remodeled home where the front half was lovingly restored and the back half of the home was removed and rebuilt. The final older home is a charming yellow and white Greek Revival built in 1871.

Two newer homes are also featured on the tour. One being the featured home on the cover of the October “House Beautiful”. The editors called it “Cloud Walk”. The last, but by far from the least, home on the tour is a modern, “Green” design in a beautiful hilltop setting.

Tour check-in time is 9:30 am to 3:00 pm on May 1 at the Healdsburg Museum. Tickets will be $35 in advance of the tour or $40 at the Museum on the day of the tour.

FORT ROSS CULTURAL TOUR
Friday, May 13, 2016 9:45-4:30
$25 includes Guided Tour and Lunch

Once we have finished another successful Homes Tour, we will all be ready for some play while learning more about the interesting early history of Sonoma County. How about a lovely, winding road trip along the gorgeous springtime Sonoma coastline to Fort Ross, eleven miles north of Jenner, for a catered picnic lunch and fascinating tour of the buildings and grounds with Park Ranger Hank Birnbaum? Hank is full of so much information about this site, an early Kasha Pomo village settled in 1812 by Russian traders moving south from Alaska, that we will have a hard time fitting all he has to say into our two-hour private tour with him.

Carpooling from Healdsburg, we'll arrive at the Fort around 11. That will give us plenty of time both to view the interesting movie introducing us to the history of the area, and to explore the well-crafted museum on the site. By then we will be ready for a bag lunch at the outside picnic area overlooking the cliffs and ocean. We may even see migrating whales as we did on our scouting trip!

Around 12:45 pm we will follow our leader to the grounds and buildings of the early settlement. After the tour of the buildings site, we will move with him by car to the nearby area which has the old, original orchard from the settlement, a grand redwood forest and a short hike along the San Andreas fault line. Those who are interested after the guided tour can explore the windmill site, trails down to the beach or even nearby Salt Point before heading home.

The group is limited to 30 maximum, offered first to members and, if space is still available after April 23, then to partners and friends as well. Please contact Jean Norelli, norelli@sonic.net and follow up with your check for $25 made to Healdsburg AAUW to reserve your space as we expect this to fill up quickly. Parking fee of $7/car if a senior is in the car.

PUBLIC POLICY: Let's Celebrate Equal Pay Day

Equal Pay Day is the symbolic day when women's earnings "catch up" to men's earnings from the previous year. It's also a powerful occasion to raise awareness about and organize action around the gender pay gap in our community.

In 2016 Equal Pay Day will be observed on Tuesday, April 12, and we need your help to support our AAUW Equal Pay Day activities in Healdsburg, Cloverdale, and Windsor!

What You Should Know about AAUW and Equal Pay Policy

The gender pay gap is a primary issue for AAUW, and one that we have been working on for years. As early as 1922, AAUW's legislative program called for a reclassification of the U.S. Civil Service and repeal of salary restrictions in the Women's Bureau. In 1955, AAUW supported a bill introduced by Reps. Edith Green (D-OR) and Edith Rogers (R-MA) requiring "equal pay for work of comparable value requiring comparable skills." Congress finally enacted the Equal Pay Act, a version of the 1955 bill, in 1963.

Despite the Equal Pay Act, the wage gap persists; women are typically paid just 79 cents on average for every dollar paid to men — and that number has barely budged in a decade. Although enforcement of the Equal Pay Act and other civil rights laws have helped to narrow the wage gap, significant disparities still must be addressed.

To improve the scope of the Equal Pay Act, AAUW advocates passage of the Paycheck Fairness Act. This would give employers stronger incentives to follow the law, enhance federal enforcement efforts, and prohibit retaliation against workers asking about wage practices.

AAUW promotes Equal Pay Day to draw attention to the gender pay gap and build support for the Paycheck Fairness Act.

Think 79 cents is bad? The pay gap is even worse for women of color. AAUW also observes Asian American Women's Equal Pay Day in March, African American Women's Equal Pay Day in August, Native American Women's Equal Pay Day in September, and Latina Equal Pay Day in October.

How You Can Help Celebrate Equal Pay Day

Healdsburg AAUW will be selling "unequal cookies" (donated by Costeaux French Bakery) in front of Big John's Market from 11 am–1 pm on Equal Pay Day. You can help by coming to Big John's with your friends and family, and buying cookies for only $1 each. The cookies for women will be round and whole. The cookies for men will have a chunk missing roughly equivalent to the amount missing from women's paychecks, so be sure to bring your male friends and family too!

The "unequal cookies" will also be sold at Costeaux's French Bakery on Healdsburg Avenue on April 12th.

In addition, you can support Healdsburg's Equal Pay Day proclamation by attending the city council meeting on April 4th at 6 pm, at which the proclamation will be adopted by the city council. The proclamation "urges the citizens of Healdsburg to recognize the full value of women's skills and significant contributions to the labor force and further encourages businesses to conduct an internal pay evaluation to ensure women are being paid fairly."

Windsor and Cloverdale will also issue proclamations in support of Equal Pay Day.

For our Windsor members, you can buy "unequal cookies" at Starbucks on The Green in Windsor on April 12th from 11 am to 1 pm.

Please come out on Tuesday April 12 to support our Equal Pay Day cookie sale. It's a friendly symbolic reminder to stop taking a bite out of women's paychecks!

COMMUNITY SERVICE

We've all seen the ripples rocks make when thrown into water. This is what our AAUW branch and Healdsburg High School looks like to me now.

Eight years ago we created a program called Career Choices to help students learn about potential job options and how to get there. This program is still going strong, and due to broadening the scope of the program it's now called Future Prep: Career Choices & Life Skills (still know as Career Choices at Cloverdale High School).

A few years ago Leslie and Todd Everett did a super job working on Career Choices. Todd was so impressed with the potential of the students that the following year he persuaded the school principal to offer internships to certain students to further acquaint them with the work world. This experiment was so successful that the school now offers internships to all the juniors as a requirement before they graduate.

Dozens of local businesses help the students learn about a new field. And at the completion of the multi-week session the students create a video presentation, and report to teachers, business mentors, and community volunteers about what they have learned.

In mid-March the school presented Internship Night, and several of our AAUW members were invited to watch and critique the presentations. Thanks to the following for all their help: Sharyn Sarquis, Violet Nelson, Judy Voigt, Ann Mahoney, Carol Hazlett (and husband John), Patty McHugh, Laura Moore, Heidi Blumenthal (and husband Don), and Judy Edmonds (and husband EJ Neil).

All of the judges were assigned to about 20 different classrooms where we heard 5 or 6 different presentations. All the AAUW volunteers (who worked in different classrooms) enjoyed and were impressed by the students. Here are just a few comments and impressions:

"I was so delighted to meet these kids and hear about their experiences - just add me to your permanent volunteer list! One young lady in particular really did a very professional job; she interned at an architecture firm in Santa Rosa, the one actually doing the renovations on our schools. She initially thought interior design was her first choice, and it might still be, but her time with this firm really opened her eyes to other possibilities. Thanks for including me - it was fun!"

— Sharyn Sarquis

"[One student's] ... internship program was with Healdsburg Community TV. I wasn't aware that Healdsburg even had a TV station. He did some video footage for them; some of it was to record history of the old bridge, hoping that one day it may be posted on the town website. He also did some programming for them. This experience confirmed that he wants a career in some facet of video/broadcasting."

— Violet Nelson

"The group we observed was well prepared and articulate. They all seemed to enjoy their internships and had a lot of passion about their interests. They all made the most of their real-world learning experiences, both the actual internships and preparing and presenting their presentations."

— Heidi Blumenthal

"All interns were very motivated, gave good presentations. They could answer any question we had. I enjoyed the presentations by two interns who interned at a fish hatchery. They were really into it despite the fact that it was not their career goals. One of the students wasn't able to make it, but [we] certainly appreciated the presentations of those who did attend."

—Laura Moore

"I was impressed with the presentations shown on internship night. They reflected an excellent program. What struck me as most important was that the kids all learned important aspects of their personalities and showed great growth during the short time they were interns. Several of them completely changed course during that period, understanding themselves well enough to know that the profession they thought they were committed to wasn't for them. I would have hired several of them instantly."

—Judy Voigt

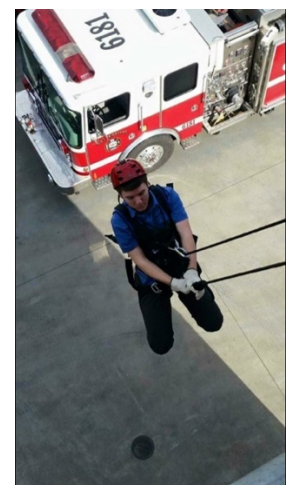

In my session the students either loved what they saw and want to continue, or realized that it wasn't for them. Either way was an important learning experience.

The most impressive student I saw was passionate about physics, but there wasn't a business in the community where he was able to be placed. Instead, he chose to go to a small barbershop . . . and wound up making lemonade out of lemons! Luis said he learned a lot about running a small business, learned marketing, and learned to design his own business cards which he passed out to us. Although he still wants to pursue physics or engineering, he made this experience count. What is especially exciting about this story is that Luis came from Mexico when he was 4 so English is his second language. He now speaks English fluently and when I talked to the principal afterwards she said he is an A student, a leader, and one of the most thoughtful and helpful kids on campus. Wow!

Congratulations, HHS (and Todd Everett) for working to give students the best opportunities for learning and for life. And thank you again to our AAUW volunteers. You are the best!

—Judy Edmonds

Here are some of the students 'on the job'!

TECH TREK

Tech Trek Camp Curie still needs volunteers for the following positions:

- ❖ Four (4) field trip drivers to the Marsh on July 14th (about 4 miles from campus)
- ❖ Lunch for Dorm moms, counselors, and directors on Sunday, July 10th
- ❖ Branch Visitation Coordinator
- ❖ A person who lives close who can be on call for emergency help
- ❖ Four (4) ladies to help with registration and check-in on July 10th, starting at 2:00 pm

Linda Pryor

Linda's the person you want to have your back. Besides enjoying movies, being an avid reader, and a self-proclaimed 'gym rat', she is also the president of the Liver Health Connection in Colorado, and still travels frequently to Denver for meetings. Formerly known as the Hep

C Connection, this agency works to expand their existing hepatitis C patient advocacy model to address more diseases of the liver.

But her real passion is as a lobbyist. Now retired after twenty-eight years, she spent the last fourteen with Pfizer, whose logo is "Applying science to discover therapies that significantly improve and extend people's lives".

So what does it take to be a lobbyist?

"Truthfulness, learning to ask questions, developing trust with people, and needing to be a generalist. For instance, at the U of Colorado, we were always trying to get money from the state. So it was my job to showcase the school, such as pointing out our focus on research, or the fact that we performed the first liver transplant, plus our reputation for having the country's best prostate cancer doctors, and then showing off several Nobel Prize winners. I'd then summarize these distinctions by showing how they translate into people's lives. And of course, I was always happy to refer the best doctors around to any constituent who called me!"

After her recent move to Healdsburg, Linda also got involved in nudging the city's efforts to do an engineering study on Foss Creek. "I'm interested in affecting the public as a policy lobbyist," she declared. "I enjoyed working with Senator Mike McGuire and our group was instrumental in clearing up the creek. I love bringing about these accomplishments, and look forward to serving on AAUW's Public Policy committee!"
